

Hello – I am writing this on behalf of my son Michael. His situation involves financial hardship and student loans.

My son attended Anna Maria college several years ago. While not completing his degree program, he did manage to amass $60,000 in student loan debt over a 2 year period. His mother and I divorced during this time so the student loans were taken out in both of their names. During this time of repayment they went through several deferments which triggered additional fees and interest charges, bringing his loan total to over $80,000 ($66,363 in private loans & $23,420 in government loans).

In looking at Michael's credit report, it appears that the private loans totaling $66,363 were written off in July of 2022, no longer appearing on his Experian credit report.

Michael and his mom were paying over $1,000 per month on his loans up until her sudden death in June of 2020. Since that time, he has not made payments on any of his student loans. Even with that, he needs my weekly financial assistance to pay his rent and to make ends meet. Can you help us?
